Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site and Interpretative Center

30 Ramey Dr, Collinsville, IL, 62234-7617

(618) 346-5160

A short drive from downtown St. Louis will catapult you into the past. In the summer, professors and archeologists conduct research on the site in an effort to understand more of the ancient Indians' rich lifestyle. You can join them at a dig and ask questions. Climb to the top of Monk's Mound, feel the breeze blow and wonder if the Cahokia spirits can feel your feet and breath on their never-forgotten city

Hard Rock Café

St. Louis Union Station

314-621-7625

Indoor and outdoor seating is available. Highlights featured include the signature Hard Rock stained-glass windows, in this case depicting Elvis Presley and Chuck Berry.

Missouri History Museum

5700 Lindell Blvd

(314) 746-4599

The museum is housed in the Jefferson Memorial Building. Built in 1913 on the site of the main entrance to the 1904 World's Fair, this classical revival structure was the nation's first monument to Thomas Jefferson. The museum got a lift in February of 2000 with the opening of the 92,000-square-foot Emerson Electric Center--connected to the Jefferson Memorial Building--which contains special exhibition galleries, the "Seeking St. Louis" galleries, an education center, a gift shop and Meriwether's Restaurant.

Grant's Farm

10501 Gravois Rd

(314) 843-1700

On the Busch family's ancestral estate, a 281-acre wildlife preserve, exotic animals, enormous Clydesdales and talking parrots are commonplace. A tram ride takes you through park grounds where deer, zebras and other hoofed creatures stroll freely. Through a thick forest, Ulysses S. Grant's cabin, built in 1856, holds history buff's attention with displays documenting the past.

International Bowling Museum

111 Stadium Plaza

(314) 231-6340

In addition to delving into bowling's ancient past, you can take a trip down memory lane into more than 100 years of St. Louis Cardinals facts and memorabilia without leaving the premises. St. Louis' well loved team houses its history in the Hall of Fame located on the other side of the building.

Saint Louis Zoo

1 Government Drive

(314) 781-0900

One of the country's best zoos--and it's free. While you're at the zoo, there's plenty to explore. The zoo covers more than 90 acres, including the River's Edge, where visitors can follow a waterway and watch cheetahs, elephants and hyenas. Stop by the Living World where nature and technology meet for an educational experience. The Bear Pits and the Sea Lion Basin are always popular spots around feeding time.

Old Courthouse

11 N 4th Street

(314) 655-1600

Steeped in historical significance. And pretty to look at, too. Built in 1828, the Old Courthouse played host to some of the most important cases of the 19th century. The first two trials in the Dred Scott case took place here in 1847 and 1850, pivotal events that set the stage for the Civil War. A plaque on the west side of the courthouse commemorates the Dred Scott decisions and their importance. Also, in the 1870s, Virginia Minor sued for her right to vote in this courthouse.

Six Flags St Louis

Six Flags Rd, Eureka, MO

(636) 938-4800
